

Make A Constellation Jar

You will need

-  Black card
-  A jar
-  Scissors
-  Pencil
-  Ruler
-  Sticky tac
-  Silver pen
-  Printed template
-  Electric tea light

(Do not use candles in this make)

Introduction

Have a go at making your very own constellation in a jar and experience space inside your home!

Instructions

1. Wrap the black card around the outside of your jar and trim it down so that it wraps around the jar. Using a ruler will help!
2. Once the card is trimmed down enough, you should be able to slot it in nicely inside your jar. It's better that there is an overlap so that there is no space for light to emerge.
3. Once you've checked that it fits, take it out and you can start to trace your constellations onto the black card. Use the template from the website for some inspiration.
4. Use a pencil with blue tack to make your holes. Make big holes for constellations and smaller holes dotted around for the stars. You can use a silver pen so that you can see your constellations clearer in the light – these will light up once you switch the tea lights on in the dark! We would recommend that you leave a cm or so at the top and bottom of the card so that your constellations can be seen clearly.
5. Now you have your finished constellations, place the black card back inside the jar.
6. Put your electric tea lights in, screw the top on and voila – you have your very own constellation jar!
